Fresh buttermilk every day—from the Lexington Creamery for 15c per gallon at the Palm.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Franch, of Big Butter creek, were visitors in Heppner on Saturday.

A nine pound daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Biebee on Friday the 17th inst.

Jas. R. Nunemaker the "slim" cherry grower of Hood River, is attending to business affairs at Heppner.

R. A. Smith deputy commander of the Maccabees, made a trip to Hardman on Tuesday in the interests of the order.

Joe Cronan, Cashier of Bank of Ione, is a patient at Heppner Sanatorium. He was operated on for appendicitis on Friday, and is rapidly recovering from the ordeal.

Lish Watkins was down on Saturday and is much interested to know when Heppner will get that creamery. Says it is the proper thing and hopes it will come soon.

W. C. Howard departed for Walla Walla on Monday where he has secured a position with a produce company. His family will follow as soon as a residence is secured for them.

Geo. W. Smith was down from his ranch near the mountains on Saturday, the first trip to town for many months. He has been confined to home by sickness from which he has now entirely recovered.

W. P. Hill has located a homestead up Willow creek between the Hager and Kelly ranches and is engaged in building a residence on the same. His family will move there as soon as the residence is ready.

Jas. Knighten was in from Eight Mile on Saturday. He has been a resident of Morrow county for 25 years or more and says he believes his section has the best prospects for crops it ever had at this season.

In order to better accommodate the trade the Case Furniture Co. will devote a section of its warehouse floor to second hand goods. A liberal price will be paid for such articles as we can dispose of. Case Furniture Co. f22-m14

Rev. Father O'Rourke has arrived from Condon to take charge of the work of the Catholic church in Heppner. His work was very successful at Condon where he was held in high esteem and he comes to Heppner well recommended.

Word received from O. P. Hendrickson brings the cheering news that he is feeling much better since arriving at Albany and is encouraged by his physician to believe that he will ultimately recover. The lower altitude is proving beneficial.

C. F. Swander secretary of the Oregon Christian Missionary Convention will visit Heppner on Wednesday next and address the people at the Christian church on that evening. All members of the church are urgently requested to be present.

Hiram Tash and wife departed on Wednesday morning for Buhl, Idaho, where they will visit for a few months with their son, John W. Hiram says he will return to Morrow county in time to help harvest our big crop, as he realizes men will be needed.

Mrs. Myrtle Mays, who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. A. Emerson for the past two weeks, departed for her home at Hood River on Friday. Her two little daughters will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson for the summer.

Mr. Sparks, of the Star Theater, announces that he will move to the Ayers building on the corner opposite the postoffice. He expects to have this building thoroughly overhauled and remodeled and put in good shape as a theater and expects to be in position to handle some up-to-date vaudeville performances at least one night each week. The public can look forward to great improvements by the time Mr. Sparks gets shaped up.

There was a lively debate at Liberty schoolhouse on Saturday evening the 10th inst., between Gooseberry and Eight Mile. The question, "Resolved that liquor has caused more suffering and bloodshed than wars," was defended for Eight Mile by W. O. Howard, Mr. Adkins and D. S. Barlow on the affirmative, while Frank Barlow, R. F. Fraser and T. W. Morgan of Gooseberry spoke for the negative. It is reported that there was much display of oratory on both sides and the judges, E. P. Warren, Algott Lundell and Fred Griffin decided that the negative side put up the most points and the momentous question is now settled for all time to come.

A case involving the Charlie Miller estate was heard before Judge Patterson on Tuesday. The real property in this estate had been disposed of by the administrator A. E. Wright, to the Nunemaker Land and Sheep Company but the heirs, being dissatisfied with the price paid, appeared and asked that the administrator be removed, claiming collusion and unfair dealing. Testimony was taken and arguments presented and a continuance of 20 days granted for the filing of other matter in the case.

The Woman's Relief Corps met at the home of Mrs. Yeager on Wednesday the 14th. After a short business session the afternoon was spent in a social manner and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The officers for 1912 are: Pres., Louretta Yeager; S. V. Mary U. Conner, J. V. Pres., Mattie T. Smead; Sec., Bertha D. Gilman; Treas. Margaret P. Ball; Con. Emilie Kelley; Chaplain Clara Mikesell; Gaurd, Eliza Barratt.

A. S. Burch this week disposed of his little alfalfa farm near Heppner to John Sprouls, the consideration being $5000. Mr. Sprouls takes charge of the place at once and Mr. Burch will get a smaller place, if he finds what he wants, and make a comfortable home where a little less work will be needed to get along. The ranch traded is a good piece of property and conveniently situated, being less than a mile out of town.

N. C. Maris has been appointed field worker of the O. A. C. to assist in getting the new industrial educational movement on its feet. He will be in Heppner on Monday and expects to remain in the county for several days. A meeting of the Commercial Club is called for Monday night to meet with Mr. Maris and begin the work in this section.

The union meeting at the M. E. Church south, is continuing with increasing interest, and conversions are announced at each service. These meetings may close after Sunday but this will depend on the interest at that time. Rev. Owen, the evangelist, is an entertaining speaker and holds his audiences well.

Nat Scott, of Lone Rock, was in Heppner on Tuesday, returning home on Wednesday. He came over to arrange with the local forest supervisor for range allotments for the coming season. Everything looks flourishing over his way and the people are in good spirits.

Richard McElligott of Dry Fork, was in Heppner a couple of days this week. He has in about six hundred acres of grain that is doing fine; in fact Dick says this is the best winter he has experienced in Morrow county, and he is one among the earliest settlers.

A slight change in the temperature this week is giving us frosty nights—a good thing to be sure as fruit trees were beginning to be a little too forward. Frosty weather at this time will hold back vegetation and save it from suffering later on.

Judge G. W. Phelps came over from Pendleton yesterday and held a short session of the circuit court on last evening. He remained over to attend the Elks ball and entertainment this evening.

Organizer Smith, of the Maccabees says that an unlimited number of people are coming into the order in Heppner, and strong lodges of both branches are being instituted.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Carson were down from Hermiston on Saturday looking over their property. They came down to prune the trees and berry vines but the renter, Mr. George beat them to the game. Mr. Carson was very agreeably surprised.

Mr. Smith has been selling quite a few of his thoroughbred White Rock pullets lately. A better strain can nowhere be found, all scoring above 90 and quite a few as high as 94. He says he has to get rid of some as the post office work takes up so much of his time that he will not be able to handle so many. He's surely giving bargains.

A number of friends gathered at the commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Sustauer on Saturday night of last week and enjoyed the hospitality of these good people. It was incidentally decided here as to the championship in the game of "five hundred". Messrs. George and Seaman, who have for some time claimed this distinction, had to graciously submit to Messrs. Friend and Kicker.

L. B. Kicker went to Pendleton last Saturday to attend a committee meeting whose duty it was to plan out a premium list for an educational exhibit in connection with the Morrow-Umatilla Fair. The Fair Ass'n has set aside five hundred dollars for prizes which will go to the school children, as premiums in agriculture, mechanical, needlework, domestic process and poultry exhibits. A complete premium list will be published and distributed among schools as soon as they can be printed.
